Re: In the Matter of Petition of USTelecom for Forbearance Pursuant to 47 U.S.C. Section 160(c); WC Docket No. 18-141; Category 1

Dear FCC,

I am a consumer of broadband service for both my home and my small business. I choose Sonic's service because it allows me to buy unbundled services. This makes my broadband service cheaper. Additionally most of the bundled services are things I don't and won't use. The large telecoms force me to pay for services that are useless to me. In other words I get a less desirable option at a higher price. I use Sonic for my telephone landline service for my business as well. The combination of phone and data is cheaper for my business then paying for similar service through AT&T. Even a small trade oriented business like mine couldn't survive with out basic access to the world wide web or a landline. I work with my hands all day. I don't need or have time for other services. I don't want to be force into paying for services I neither need nor want. This strikes me as unAmerican to not give me the freedom to choose what service fits my needs.

Please keep the 1996 telecommunications act in tact.
